

welcome to squareville

In this neighborhood, Squares like us focus on delivering world-class content and community features to wireless devices and the Internet.

All Squarevillians believe that content should be fun, easy to use, addictive and available on any device that you choose. By adding ever-growing community features like message boards, high scores, player searches and rankings, Squareville is the first service to tie users of different mobile, wireless and broadband devices together into one community.

If you would like to be updated when new products and services are available please email updates@squareville.com

So, come inside, have a square meal, and let's see what develops.
Visit www.squareville.com

For more information about development and publishing opportunities with Squareville please email info@squareville.com

develop to a segway™

Enter the Mobile Device Game and Utility Application Development contest.

Grand Prize - you win IT
(A brand new Segway™ Human Transporter)

All applications will be considered for distribution through www.squareville.com

For information and to pre-register for the contest go to www.programmingcontest.com

Good luck with IT!

Copyright © 2000-2003 UIEvolution Inc. All rights reserved.
Registered brand names are trademarks of their respective owners

you're a square peg

You're different.

A square peg in a round hole.

In other words, you've decided to develop games and apps for mobile devices.

Well, you're no longer going to have to do it alone...

into a Round Hole